Alderman Transan (Twelth ward) presented a preumble and resolution setting forth that the press was teeming with charges against their body, of bribery vonality, and corruption, but in such general terms that they could not be dealt with, and requesting that editors of newspapers, and others, would publish any fact that came to their knowledge, with the names of the indi-

Alderman Tween, (Seventh ward.) seconded the rest lution, and hoped it might be the means of putting their standerous attacks in some tangible form.

Alderman Sturrerant, (Fligd ward,) thought it was a matter of very little account what the newspapers aid, but the resolution ought to be adopted as he hought it would have the effect of putting a stop to fisce instinuations. According to the accounts in the bree instinuations. According to the accounts in the newspapers it spuld be inferred that the city affairs and the Common Council were all geing to the devil, but he appeared editors must have semening to write about, as it was their only means of subsistance. He knew there was not a public set of his that had not been the subject of censure by the newspapers in some manner or other. (Laughter). See was very indifferent on the subject, and he did not care whether the resolution passed or not hat wonds vote for it.

Alderman Waste made a few remarks, which our reporter did not distinctly hear; but he was understood to condima the course of a large portion of the press, and to suggest the striking out part of the resolution.

On a civision it was carried as originally introduced.

MOSH ANDAY DEWELD CONTRACT.

Alderman Doughtart (Nineteenth ward), offered a resolution that the time be extended for the contractor on the rewer in Forty first street, between the Eighth and Ninth avenues. He stated as a ground for the resolution that it was understood at the time that there were one hundred feet of rock to be blasted, whereas is proved that there were four hundred feet, and there was no pressing necessity for the complete it in thirty days, which would have been done, had the facts been as represented to the contractor.

Alderman Tiesann said it was one of those cases which, one accommittee on which he was chairman, was proved to be likely to effect injustice. It had been demonstrated to them that it some instances role aging the time was the means of increasing the amount beyond the sum named in other tenders, so that the person receiving the contract and pay was not in fact the investibility of the remaining the sum as Alderman STURTEVANT, (Third ward.) thought it was
